All Accounted For

Growth, gap and game-changers in the UK accountancy industry

We've just released our latest Silverfin report. Our research looked at the mood and opinions of partners and senior to mid-level employees working in accounting firms.

See what this snapshot revealed on the sector's strategic goals; accountants' daily roles, job satisfaction and wellbeing; and views on the role of technology in the profession, now and into the future.

er of our findings

£176

average billable hours lost per accountant, per day.

There's an invisible vampire of profit. See the fuller calculation when it comes to inefficiency.

CHECK OUR MATHS

of Accountants surveyed think AI is delivering on the hype, saying it has helped their firms to save time. But research has found nuances in AI across age groups.
